

Epson SIDM Push/Pull Tractor Unit for Epson FX2190, LQ2090 Printers.

There are few things more annoying than having to get up multiple times throughout the working day and reload a printer. The Epson Additional Push/Pull Tractor (C12C800212) can help you sidestep this annoyance by massively increasing the capacity of your printer, handling even the largest print jobs with minimal fuss and effort on your part.

Designed to offer the office printer greater capacity in all document handling tasks, and improve the efficacy of printing large reports, the Epson Additional Push/Pull Tractor (C12C800212) is quick and simple to affix to FX2190, LQ2090 printers. With minimal set-up required, the feeder provides an instantaneous and hugely effective solution to document handling problems.

Increase the longevity and lifespan of the printer by adding compatible trays and feeders – helping the office save significant funds in the meantime. Far more affordable than investing in new printers every time the workgroup grows or the demands upon the printer increase, adding extra feeders and trays is so often the wise choice.

More than just additional trays and feeders, we stock a huge range of accessories and add-ons for printers from all the top brands. Helping your printer fulfil its potential and increase its value to your business, the accessories can help increase capacity, speed and performance with minimal investment.

If you're looking to improve your printer's ability, the Printerland team can help direct you in the right direction. Completely impartial and hugely experienced, our customer care specialists will listen to your print requirements and help you find the printers and the parts which best suit your needs.
