

Packed with a 12AX7 preamp tube and an EL84 power tube, the handbuilt 5-watt Bugera T5 Infinium guitar amplifier head serves up all of the buttery, tube-soaked tones that you've heard on countless songs throughout the history of the electric guitar. Complete with a high-definition reverb and a built-in power attenuator, the T5 Infinium is a pint-sized, do-it-all head. On top of that, Bugera's Tube Life Multiplier Technology ensures that the T5 Infinium guitar amplifier gives you reliability and consistent tone over the lifespan of your tubes. Sales Engineers have played through virtually every amp in existence, and they know how to get you the tone you're looking for!

12AX7 preamp tube and EL84 power tube provides sweet harmonics and warm distortion

Infinium Tube Life Multiplier technology extends the lifespan of your tubes

Classic-style tone control allows for sound shaping

Built-in power attenuator lets you hit the sweet spot at any volume

Integrated high-definition reverb with dedicated reverb control